

TEDDY GIVES UP HIS PROPOSED WESTERN TRIP

Plans Suddenly Changed After a Visit of His Lieutenant, Perkins and Dixon.

Oyster Bay, July 17.—Col. Roosevelt announced late tonight that he had decided to abandon his trip into the Middle West. This sudden change in plans was made after a conference with Senator Dixon, his campaign manager, George W. Perkins and Oscar L. Davis, one of Senator Dixon's aides.

"We came down to talk over the trip," said Mr. Davis, "and agreed that it must be given up. To many questions are coming up at our headquarters in New York, which require Col. Roosevelt's personal attention, that he found it virtually impossible to get away at this time."

Mr. Davis said that Col. Roosevelt would remain in Oyster Bay until the 24 or 25 of August, when he will depart for Chicago to attend the convention of the new party. After the convention he may make a few speeches in the Central West.

It was his intention until tonight to go into Kansas, Iowa and Michigan to take part in the campaign preceding the primaries, at which candidates for electors are to be chosen.

Col. Roosevelt would add nothing to Mr. Davis' statement. He said earlier in the day that he was hard at work with the preparation of a statement of his position, which will be issued shortly before the Chicago convention.

So much remains to be done in the effort to put the party on its feet as firmly as possible before the convention that it was the opinion of both the colonel and his advisers he should remain here and devote himself to that task.

While Col. Roosevelt was conferring with his leaders his neighbors in Oyster Bay were launching the new party movement here. At a mass meeting to night, the Roosevelt Progressive Club of Oyster Bay was organized.

COW MAKES A MIDNIGHT VISIT

While the members of a camping party at the Sagamore were wrapped in slumber Wednesday night, they were disturbed by a queer visitor. The back of the tent had been left open and a cow walked into the sleeping quarters of the party and flopped for a nap with the occupants of the tent. The boy who had hardly stretched out under the canvas when one of the party, noticing the form of something piled up in the corner, crept over in the dark and laid hands on the object. Then bossy started something. Everybody was in their nightgowns. Bossy did the "turkey trot" and a few other stunts, then made a dash for freedom which nearly put the camp's sleeping quarters out of service as she leaped through the side of the canvas.

QUITE AN INDUSTRY

The gathering of wrinkles as bait for deep water fishing has got to be quite an industry in this city. About 25 people are at present engaged in this work which brings them as high as $1.25 per bucket. Those engaged in the work now make a living eight months out of the year and can find a ready market for all they can get.

WHO IS THE CHAMPION?

J. Kilroe and D. Dwyer have signed articles of agreement for a race at the Amesbury field house, to take place this evening. The race will be a circuit of bases for a purse. The winner will take all. The race is to decide the championship of the Gimlet Club.

ELECTRIC CAR CATCHES FIRE THIS NOON

Auto Chemical Called to Extinguish Lively Blaze.

Passengers on the 12.05 p. m. car on the Plains loop enjoyed some fireworks on Middle street near the corner of Wilbur street, today. The electrical display was started from an overheated resistance box under the car and started quite a lively blaze. A garden hose from one of the nearby residences was put in action but the stream could not check it. A still alarm brought out the chemical and the crew made quick work of the fire. Only slight damage resulted from the trouble and the crew were able to get the car to the car shed under its own power.

PLEASANT LAWN PARTY

Pythian Sisters Hold Successful Affair at Sinclair Inn.

The members of Chystal temple, Pythian Sisters, held a well attended lawn party on the grounds of the Sinclair Inn Wednesday evening. The grounds were tastefully decorated with Japanese lanterns and presented a handsome appearance. Those in attendance at the ice cream table found a ready sale for their goods. During the evening, which was enjoyed by a large number present. The success of the affair was in a measure due to a committee composed of Mrs. Richard B. Hannaford, Mrs. Harry Woods and Mrs. Nellie M. Hoyt.

MILLS MAKE AGREEMENT

No Further Extension of New Bedford Strike Now Believed

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 18.—That there will be no further extension of the strike of weavers and loom fixers of the local cotton mills beyond the twelve mills which are already closed, was virtually decided last night when representatives of six of seven mills which are still running entered into a verbal agreement with a committee of the striking weavers. The seven mills now running are not affiliated with the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' association.

OBJECT TO GRADING SYSTEM

The mill representatives agreed to prevent a repetition of yesterday's outbreak at the Butler mills. Prison sentences meted out by Judge Milliken to disturbers arrested yesterday included a sentence of one year each for Antonio Camara and Sophia O'Garra, and of six months' imprisonment for Frank J. Amadoro. Another rioter was fined $20.

The leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World made plans to continue the picketing of the working mills today. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, an organizer of the I. W. W., arrived in New Bedford late yesterday and addressed a meeting of strikers in the evening.

The conference committee of the weavers made a report to the executive committee of the union at a meeting last night and it was the sentiment of that body that verbal agreement of the manufacturers who are on the fair list should be satisfactory to the union.

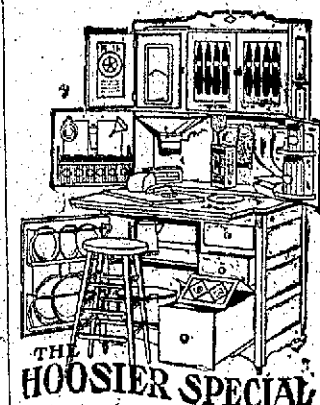

The textile council, at a meeting last night expressed regret at the outbreaks at the Butler and Whitman mills, declaring it was not the desire of the unions to be connected with the council to interfere with the mills where there is no strike.

President Hobin, in an interview, said: "We are not going to stand for the intimidation of workers where mills are running."

The council also voted to take no action on the request of the Industrial Workers of the World that all the labor organizations work together.

At a meeting of the Industrial Workers last night, the demands framed last night were considered and adopted and arrangements were made for organization work among the different nationalities.

EXTRADITION PAPERS ISSUED FOR BEACH

He Is Wanted for $15,000 Theft at Studebaker Summer Home at Little Boar's Head.

Acting on the request of County Solicitor Ernest L. Guppli of Rockingham county Governor Bass on Wednesday issued his requisition on Gov. Tener of Pennsylvania for the extradition of Edgar H. Beach, alias William Thomas, who is wanted on a charge of committing the diamond robbery at the summer home of Mrs. George H. Studebaker at Little Boar's Head.

Beach, who is about 40, came to New York in December, 1911, from Liverpool. He secured the position of butler with a Madison avenue family and disappeared shortly afterward along with $3500 worth of jewelry. It is alleged.

Upon returning to this country, Beach, through a Boston employment agency, became butler for the Studebakers and had been in their employ only five days when he disappeared on June 17. Jewelry valued at $15,000 were missed at the same time.

Beach was arrested on June 27 on board a steamer at Philadelphia, as he was about to sail for England. He is now in jail in that city awaiting the arrival of papers on which he will be returned to New Hampshire for trial. About all the jewelry was recovered.

Gov. Bass has also granted the request of Gov. Park of Massachusetts for the extradition of Willie D. Hodge, alias William A. Smith, who is under arrest in Conway. He is wanted in Massachusetts to answer to an indictment charging polygamy.

The Riversides stopped the onward march of the Portsmouth Catholic Union on Wednesday evening, when they played better ball, hit harder and won the game. The Kittery boys got to Dandeneau and in the fourth inning, reaching him for three clean singles which coupled with a terrible wild throw by Hughes netted them three runs enough to win the game. The P. C. U. were unable to hit Lombardi, who allowed but two hits and they should have been shut out. Several times, however, errors got him in a bad fix especially in the first inning when they had three men on bases. Again in the fourth they had two men on but they failed to score. Only one fly was caught in the outfield. There was some sharp fielding and Hoffman as usual played a snappy game at second, and Kabalka at third. Lombardi besides pitching great ball fielded his position in great shape. In fact he seems to be the headiest pitcher of the league. Huntoon was off his usual game and in addition to making two costly errors, came near making a bad play in the first when he threw to first, when he could have forced a man at either second or third.

This game places the Riversides ahead of the Y. M. C. A. and it pulls the P. C. U. down to within a game of the P. A. C. and Elks.

The game in detail:

First Inning.

The Riversides were up first and Grant was thrown out by Dandeneau. Caswell singled through short and Pruett hit a line drive to Hughes, who doubled Caswell at first.

The P. C. U. started in like winners. W. Lynskey was passed, Hughes was safe when Paul dropped Huntoon's low throw. Kincaid hit to Huntoon, who had a chance to get a man at third or second, but instead threw Kincaid out at first, both men advancing. It looked bad with a man on third and second and Hoffman up, but he hit Lombardi, who caught Lynskey at the plate. Frederick fled to Huntoon, retiring the side.

Second Inning.

The Riversides were out in short order. Able on a fly that Kabalka caught. Huntoon was thrown out by Kabalka and Paul hit to Thomas in center.

Kabalka reached first on Huntoon's fumble, but he was thrown out trying to steal second. T. Lynskey struck out and Dandeneau was thrown out by Lombardi.

Third Inning.

There was nothing doing in the third. Smart struck out, Farnsworth was safe when Kabalka tried to go his slow grounder one handed and he stole second, but was caught off the base by Dandeneau. Lombardi struck out.

Thomas was thrown out by Huntoon. W. Lynskey singled and was thrown out stealing second, when Hughes fanned.

Fourth Inning.

This Riversides placed the game in queer in this inning. Grant hit to Hughes, who threw way over into the bleachers and Kincaid after bowling over Grant went after it and the ball being blocked, he threw to Hoffman who touched Grant. Grant was, however, sent to third as it was a blocked ball and this started a kick in which every member of the P. C. U. took part and Umpire Howard ordered Grant back to second. Caswell fanned and Pruett walked. Able singled over second and Thomas fumbled the ball. Grant scored. Huntoon singled and Pruett scored. Paul followed with another single scoring Able. Smart hit to Dandeneau and Huntoon was forced at third. Farnsworth shot up an infield fly that Hoffman caught back of second.

The C. U. scored in their half. Kincaid drew a pass and stole second, and went to third on a wild pitch. Hoffman struck out. Frederick hit to Lombardi, who caught Kincaid at the plate. Frederick stole second and scored on Kabalka's single which went through Caswell and Huntoon. T. Lynskey hit to Huntoon who forced Kabalka at second.

Score—Riversides, 3; P. C. U., 1.

Fifth Inning.

Lombardi hit a wild third strike, but Frederick got him at first. Grant fanned and Caswell singled and was safe at second on Thomas' fumble. Pruett hit to Kabalka and Caswell was run down between second and third. Kabalka getting the out.

The P. C. U. started with Dandeneau being hit in the leg and Hoffman was sent in to run for him. Thomas hit to Caswell, who had Hoffman forced at second by yards, but Huntoon dropped the ball. W. Lynskey struck out and Hughes hit to Lombardi, who caught Hoffman at third and a second later Thomas was caught off second and run down. Caswell getting the out.

BASEBALL NOTES.

AN OLD TIME PLAYER.

The sudden death of Hon. George P. Sanger of Boston, a distinguished attorney at law, calls to mind the fact that he with his brother, John Sanger, were visitors here in the summer season of years ago, during the period, 1866 to 1870.

Both were then college students, and took much interest in baseball, which at that date was hardly less popular than is the game of these later days.

The Rockingham Club was playing good ball at that time, and as the Sanger boys were expert ball players, they became active members of our local club, and added their share to the many victories of the nine representing Portsmouth. This team was recognized as among, if not the best in the State, and some of the individual members were admitted to be the best ball players that New Hampshire could produce.

The "Nine" of those years was as follows: Standish, c.; Dow, p.; Emery, lb.; Kimball, ss.; Rogers, 3b.; John Sanger, 2b.; Larkin, lf.; George Sanger, cf.; McKenzie, rf.

Of the nine, four are still living, viz: Alfred O. Larkin, James H. Dow, Albert Emery, George G. Kimball.

Forty Racing Horses Working Out at Rockingham Park.

SALEM, July 18—About 30 racing horses are in the stables at Rockingham park in anticipation of the meet in August. The performers are worked out daily on the mile ring, and find it fast. PRICE AND MITCHELL MATCHED

NEW YORK, July 18—Harry Price, who holds the welterweight title and trophy for South Africa, has been matched to meet Terry Mitchell, the Brooklyn welterweight, 10 rounds, at the Royale A. C. Saturday night.

WILL PLAY DOVER FRIDAY.

As there is no postponed Sunset League game scheduled for Friday evening the Elks will play Dover a five inning game, under the same conditions as the Sunset League. It should be a fine game.

BITS OF SPORT

"Marquard will begin his new string of victories against the Cardinals," wrote a New York scribble for his paper Saturday, and straightway "Robo" dropped two in one day to those same "crazy marks," the Cardinals, which was a great upset to a fairly reasonable though unsafe prediction. To lose a game in the two innings that Marquard relieved Willze was hard luck.

In a sensational meeting Monday night at the Garden A. C. New York, Buck Crouse of Pittsburgh, weighing 158 pounds, and Young Dave Kurtz of Newark, weighing 144 3-4 pounds, fought eight rounds, the referee then stopping the bout. Crouse stood head and shoulders over his adversary and Kurtz had to jump up in the air every time he tried to land. In the second round Crouse dropped Kurtz to the mat with a right to the jaw. Kurtz held his own for six rounds, but after that the superior weight and strength of Crouse told and he battered Kurtz until the referee interfered.

The first break in the quartet of great pitchers that helped two American league pennants to Philadelphia came Monday when Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, released Harry RE (C) Morgan to Kansas City team of the American association. Morgan came to the Philadelphia team in 1909 as the result of a trade with the Boston Americans.

Joe Jeannette, the colored heavy-weight, won some easy money Monday night at New Bedford by stopping Jeff Madden of Boston and Mickey McDonough of Brooklyn, in less than six of the twelve scheduled rounds.

President Charles Comiskey of the White Sox returned to Chicago from New York Monday night and set at rest rumors that Hal Chase of the Highlanders might be sold to his club. "We had no chance to get Chase," said Comiskey, "without weakening our club more than Chase would strengthen it. No trade would be agreed to by New York that would not leave a hole in the home team, that it would be immediately necessary to fill with

UNITED STATES OFFICIALS IN THIRD PLACE

STOCKHOLM, July 17.—The fifth and last event in the military riding competition at the Olympic games saw the United States team retrograde from second to third place. Four teams competed. Sweden, Germany and the United States, each represented by four men, and France by three. English and Danish riders abandoned the competition.

The style and appearance of the horses ridden by the officers counted largely in this event. The foreign officers had animals which were far more costly than those of the Americans, some of whose mounts are merely picked cavalry horses, and the horses rather than horsemanship turned the scale.

Cut. Frederick S. Voll, who is in charge of the American Army officers here, is confident that they are as good riders as those of any Army, and most of the spectators of the competition agree with him.

The individual scores in this competition after the completion of the fifth event today were: Nordlander, Sweden, first, with 46.55 points; Rockow, Germany, second, with 46.42 points; Gordon, France, third, with 46.36 points. Then came two Swedish officers and one German with fractions over 46 points, and these are followed by 1st Lieut. Ben Lear, 15th Cavalry, who is placed seventh with 45.91 points; 1st Lieut. John C. Montgomery, 7th Cavalry, eighth, with 45.88 points; Capt. Guy V. Henry, 13th Cavalry, 11th, with 45.54 points, and 1st Lieut. E. F. Graham, 15th Cavalry, 13th, with 45.30 points.

The American officers embarked on the Finland, which sails for Dover tonight, and thus will miss the banquet which is to be given to the military competitors.

The Olympic regatta, probably the largest international rowing gathering on record, opened this morning with the race for outrigger fours with sliding seats and with a coxswain. The results of the heats were as follows:

Stockholm beat Christiania by two lengths.
Denmark beat Gothenburg by a length and a half.
Norway beat France by five lengths.

The race for eight-oared outrigger shells with coxswain absorbed most of the attention of the spectators. The heats resulted as follows:

Germany beat France by a length and a half. Time, 6m 45s. Germany led throughout.

Australia beat Sweden easily. Time, 6m 57s. The race was practically a procession.

Berlin R. C. beat Hungary by 2 1-2 lengths. Time, 6m 32s.

New College, Oxford, beat Norway by a length and a quarter. Time, 6m 42 1-2s.

Leander Club beat Canada by 3-4 of a length. Time, 6m 22 1-2s.

Sweden's second crew rowed over unopposed.

a good man." Comiskey did not make known the names of players mentioned in the attempted trade.

The Philadelphia players have been accused of using liniment on the ball when Marty O'Toole is pitching. Manager Clarke claims that some players have been using a certain hot sauce to down his moist-ball pitcher.

Fred Lake is rounding his Providence team into form, and promises to make trouble for the leaders before the home stretch is reached.

The major league scouts have a large number of New England league players marked for draft this fall, at $1000 a man.

The New York Giants are having trouble with injured players, but have such a lead that they can stand quite a setback and come strong again in the East. They finish at home this season.

The New York Nationals Wednesday bought pitcher Paddy Green of the Holyoke club of the Connecticut league for $8000, the highest price ever paid for a player in the league. Green who is a large young man, never pitched professional ball until last April when he joined the Holyoke team, but has since made a splendid record.

The nine from the U.S.S. Washington will play the Dover nine at Central park on Saturday.

There is considerable talk at York Beach concerning automobile races on Long Beach during the month of August. This beach is of considerable length and affords great opportunity for such sport.

After their streak of hard luck, the local fans are pleased to see the Riverides playing winning ball. The members of the team have been good losers.

EXETER LETTER

Summer work and improvements about the Phillips Exeter academy grounds and Hampton field are now going on rapidly. Hampton field beyond is being leveled off this summer, the work having been in progress for the past two weeks, and in the fall at the opening of the school year it will be ready for practice football fields. The former practice fields will be cut up into tennis courts. Building, however, is the leading industry here during the summer months. The Davis library and Webster dormitory at the academy, and the new Tuck high school will all be ready for use in the fall. The three new buildings, which will soon be completed and all nearly at the same time constitute a construction feat which has seldom, if ever before, been equaled in Exeter. They were also started nearly at the same time, and the aggregate cost of all is about $150,000. The Spring street school building, which was conveyed to Phillips academy in the deal made with the trustees by the school district in obtaining possession of the old campus where the Tuck high school building is erected, in this week being stripped of its furnishings. The academy takes full possession Nov. 15, at the same time the school district comes into possession of the campus.

The deed for the Catholic chapel which is to be erected at Hampton Beach came to the register of deeds' office at the county building today. It was dated May 15, 1912, and the conditions under which it was drawn up are interesting.

The land was sold by the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury Street railway to George A. Guertin, bishop of Manchester, and is bounded on one side by what is known as the Old Beach road, and formerly of Oliver B. Fogg and now of Warren J. Drew, and on other sides by the same Old Beach road and the grantor, the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury Street railway. It is situated near the Casino. A part of the deed reads: "This conveyance is made subject to express condition which is assumed by the grantee in accepting this conveyance, that the premises hereby conveyed shall be used solely for religious purposes of the Roman Catholic church, including in such purposes the erection of not more than one cottage to be occupied solely as a rectory in connection with such purposes; and the grantor and his successors and assigns hereby reserve the right in case of any violation in this condition, or in case of failure for a period of three years from date of this deed to begin the erection of a church or chapel on said premises, or in case of failure thereafter for three years at any time to hold religious services in such church or chapel, or if it is conveyed to any firm or corporation for any other purpose.

The Third company, C. A. C., is resting somewhat from the regular drills in the course of the hot months, yet the members meet each Monday evening and go through the range work. Capt. A. E. Foss intends to have the regular drills begin Aug. 4, in order to get in readiness for the annual encampment which will be this year, as last, at Fort Constitution with the regular troops.

Wesley Sawyer of New York, formerly of Kensington and a graduate from Phillips Exeter academy, was a visitor here today as the guest of his classmate, Attorney Stewart B. Rowe.

Another baseball game between the married and the single men of the Wainwright Club is likely to take place in the near future, as the former have issued a challenge.

Naval Development.

The old frigate Wabash has been placed out of commission at the Boston yard, and her name will be stricken from the naval list. During the period between 1804 and 1860 the naval administration had endeavored to follow the changes that were being made by other nations in warship construction, but it had not fully caught up with them, says the New York Evening Post. It had begun by building heavy sidewheelers, first the Mississippi and Missouri, and next the Powhatan and Susquehanna. Efficient as these latter vessels were, considered in 1847, when they were begun, and even in 1850, when they were launched, their model was promptly dropped when the submarine screw was introduced in place of the vulnerable paddle-wheel. Six screw frigates were accordingly built in 1855, and they were regarded with admiration by naval men abroad as well as at home. The Niagara, the largest of these, was a ship of 4,500 tons. The other five, Wabash, Roanoke, Colorado, Merrimack and Minnesota, had a tonnage somewhat over three thousand tons. All of them were heavily armed, and they formed, or were supposed to form, the chief element of naval strength of the United States. If a war had arisen with a maritime enemy supplied with vessels of the same general style at that time, they would have given a good account of themselves. In the civil war, however, the Confederates had few ordinary vessels of war to be met and conquered in ocean duels, and the waters upon the southern coast were too shallow to admit the frigates. Hence none of them performed any service at all proportionate to their size and cost of maintenance, except in two or three isolated cases of bombardment as at Matanzas inlet, Port Royal and Fort Fisher. The Wabash was built at Philadelphia. The Merrimack was built at the Boston yard, and was later converted into the ironclad Virginia by the Confederates. The Wabash will be sold for junk, and will probably be burned on one of the islands in Boston harbor. She has been receiving ship at the Boston yard since 1875.

Real Yards Must Be Recognized.

Our latest sea fighter, the battleship Wyoming, went aground yesterday while on her way from the Philadelphia navy yard bound to sea. This is one of Mr. Meyer's inland naval stations, 180 miles from sea, located in mud banks. It is his fresh water navy yard where the ships will not "rust." It cannot be for fighting purposes that he is maintaining this station for the reason that every time he orders a war ship or transport to leave there they bring up on a mud bank. Seriously, some day, the public will demand that the real navy yards get a square deal.

The Express Rate Reform

The decision of the interstate commerce commission compelling the express companies to reduce their rates for certain classes of service, averaging about 15 per cent for the entire country, and effecting other reforms that will tend to improve the efficiency of the express service without unreasonably reducing the profits of the companies, will be welcomed by the public as one of the most practical measures of reform that this body has adopted since its organization. For a long time a general belief in the unreasonableness of express charges has prevailed, particularly on small packages hauled short distances. There has been a plain lack of proportion between different kinds of services rendered, although the patrons of the express companies were unable to ascertain the facts and make a showing in protest. It required the inquisitorial powers of the commission to reach the facts and to work out a new order of things.

The first thought in such a matter is that the express companies will resist the attempt of the commission to enforce a modification of their rates; but for their own sake they should decide otherwise. There is a marked sense of impatience throughout the United States on this score, and it would be the part of wisdom for the express companies to acquiesce in these orders, which are based upon sound reasoning and undeniable facts, and thus possibly prevent more drastic measures of rate regulation. If the express companies do not agree to the scale of charges adopted by the interstate commerce commission and to the regulations which are outlined in the recent order they will strengthen the public demand for the adoption of the parcel post system, whereby the United States government undertakes to carry packages at low rates. The adoption of the parcel post would hit the express companies far more seriously than this order, which is based upon

CURRENT OPINION

BY
A. LAWRENCE LOWELL,
President of Harvard College.

THE MANAGER'S DIFFICULT POSITION

THE stockholder is essentially in the position of the absentee landlord and the suffering falls on the persons with whom his corporation is brought into contact—as it falls upon the tenant or the slave gangs on an estate—not because the stockholder is malicious or hard, or even indifferent, or even aware of its problems.

The manager, on the other hand, knows that the stockholders, while very keen about the amount of their dividends, are indifferent about the manner in which they are earned. He knows that so long as the stock is profitable he is unlikely to be asked questions about the management, but that if as a result of conscientiousness there is a falling off in the dividends he will be called to account sharply.

The difficulty has been increased by the intense competition of modern industrial life, where the margin of profit is very small and depends upon a close scrutiny of expenditure and revenue—a scrutiny which the manager feels keenly, but the scattered owners and the public fail to comprehend.

Corporations have enabled small property owners to co-operate in vast concerns, and have rolled up huge aggregations of capital, capable of increasing wealth and exerting power for good and harm on an unprecedented scale; but they have made these owners, in most cases, absentees, with all the evils of absentee-proprietorship.

These dangers can be lessened only if both owners and managers feel that property involves obligations; that it is not held for purely selfish gratification, but is affected with a trust for the community at large, to be discharged with a conscientious regard for the public welfare; that it is not merely the size of the dividends, but the service to our fellow men for which we must account.

the principle of granting a reasonable profit.—Washington Star.

The Generals-in-Chief

Mr. Taft's campaign will be conducted by a man familiar with the situation and on terms of intimacy with the candidate. In all the important work leading up to the Chicago convention Mr. Hillis was in the confidence of his chief, and participated in the consultations held. He starts in, therefore, well equipped for his work. He knows the men with whom he will be thrown, and can assign them to duty with an understanding of their capacities. He has the respect of the country regardless of party.

Mr. McCombs' relations to Mr. Wilson are quite as confidential. He planned most of the work done in Mr. Wilson's behalf prior to the Baltimore convention; and while it was Mr. Bryan's strategy and foresight which secured the nomination, Mr. Bryan's labors would have been in vain if Mr. McCombs had failed to present his man at the convention in vigorous form. Mr. McCombs is not as widely known as Mr. Hillis, but his acquaintance with democratic leaders should rapidly enlarge and enable him to proceed intelligently without delay.

Mr. Roosevelt has yet to make his selection. Mr. Dixon is indicated by the fact that he stood to Mr. Roosevelt prior to Chicago in the same relation that Mr. Hillis stood to Mr. Taft. He was the right hand man of his chief, and helped shape things. His "claims" and probabilities, were all that a desperate cause demanded, and couched now in enthusiasm and now in insult to the opposition. He felt in readily with the Roosevelt manner, and did his part to his chief's liking.

Mr. Dixon received much assistance from Mr. Plinn and Mr. Perkins, and they are likely to continue near him. Bossism and brutalism are two of the Roosevelt cries; and Mr. Plinn can act as the precursor in the one case and Mr. Perkins in the other. Each knows how to "give out" the time so as to insure a large volume of sound on the part of the congregation.

Mr. Wilson has been more fortunate in this matter than either Judge Parker in 1904 or Mr. Bryan in 1908. Mr. Taggart was a stranger to his chief, and was forced on him by the politicians, while Mr. Mack would not have been Mr. Bryan's choice if the vice presidential nomination had not gone to Indiana. It thus became necessary to recognize New York in some way, and the place of campaign manager was accorded her.

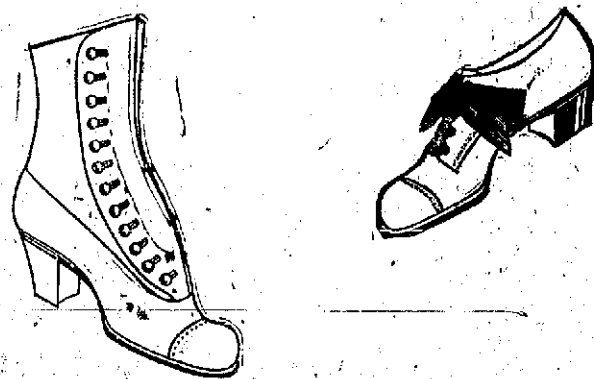

New times, new men. These are all new men. Four years ago neither Mr. Hillis nor Mr. McCombs was known to the country at large. Mr. Dixon was an inappreciable western senator; Mr. Plinn as a boss was still in the parochial class, and Mr. Perkins had just begun in a modest way to rescue the business world from the slough of trickery and selfishness. He had just left the field atmosphere of Morgan and Com-

Battleship New Hampshire In Drydock Showing How Stern Was Damaged When Steamboat Hit Her.

Copyright 1912, by American Press Association.

The battleship New Hampshire, which was rammed by the Fall River line steamer Commonwealth off Newport, R. I., is now at the Brooklyn navy yard. The sound liner's bow struck the stern of the New Hampshire, ripping up the deck in the warship, tearing away a bulkhead of watertight compartment and causing damage to the captain's cabin. Naval Constructor Baxter of the Boston navy yard after examining the damaged stern of the battleship decided that it would cost $15,000 to make repairs.

Little Sayings.

Infant Snobbery.

Too often the idea of service is associated solely with paid servants, although seldom so amusingly as in the case of a little girl of whom a contributor tells.

She had visited a little friend whose family did their own housework. She had a very good time, and on coming home was telling her mother all about it.

"But, mother dear, they do one very dreadful thing," she concluded, for it is kind of cruel, and you mightn't let me go again."

"Tell me," urged her mother, in some alarm.

"They use their own grandmother for a cook!" the little girl replied, in a shocked whisper.—Exchange.

Thought it Unreasonable.

A thoughtful little girl, for example, recently put to rest her mother, a young widow, by a searching fire of questions founded on the request:

"Oh, mama, won't you buy me a baby brother?"

"You won't understand why I can't do that for you," the mother finally remarked, driven into a corner, "but little girls who have no fathers cannot have little brothers and sisters."

"Well, it seems very unreasonable," said the child, after a few minutes of reflection. "Little girls without fathers are pretty sure to be lonely, and that seems all the more reason why they should have other children in the family, doesn't it?"—Exchange.

The Same Thing.

A worried parent is sometimes obliged to do something like this: "Pa, what is a transcendentalist?" "Have you chained up the dog, as I told you?" "Not yet, pa." "Well, do that and when you come back I will tell you what a transcendentalist is." While Bobby was gone his astute parent dug the needed information out of a dictionary.—Exchange.

SIXTY LOTS WITHHELD FROM SALE

Some of Condemned Material Will Be Utilized.

William Jacobus, the much talked of junk expert of the navy department, who looks after the financial success of all sales of condemned material, has caused a hold up on the part of the last junk sale at the navy yard. The combined lots offered to the public numbered two hundred and a bid was made on nearly all. When the papers of the sale were returned from Washington the department directed that sixty lots should be withheld from the sale. Forty of them did not bring money enough and the remaining twenty are to be utilized by the government in the yard foundations.

CHILD HAS WONDERFUL ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Major G. C. Thorpe's Automobile Struck by Electric Car in Kittery and Child Thrown Out.

Major G. C. Thorpe, U. S. M. C., the escape. The child was hurled from commanding officer of the Naval her nurse's arms some little distance. Prison at the Navy Yard, with his striking in the road, but was not injured and daughter, Elizabeth, aged 20 months, and nurse maid, Marie Dillon, while riding in an automobile, were struck by an electric car of the Atlantic Shore Railway, in Kittery, shortly before six o'clock on Wednesday evening, and they had a wonderful Hibbard and Motorman Amos, inward bound to the ferry, came down the hill on Government street. Motorman Amos did not see the automobile until he was almost upon them, when he applied his brakes, but he could not check the car and it crashed into the rear end of the automobile, lifting it from the track out into the road. The shock was so great to the people in the auto that the baby, who was in the nurse's arms, was hurled bodily from the car and landed in the middle of the road some little distance away. Major Thorpe was driven against the steering wheel and he received a cut on his face and was badly bruised. Mrs. Thorpe and the nurse were thrown against the side of the car, but they were not injured and in frantic haste jumped from the automobile after the baby who was lying in the road crying.

The child was taken to their home in Kittery and a physician summoned, but an examination failed to reveal any broken bones and it is thought that she escaped without any injury. It was a wonderful escape.

The automobile was badly damaged, the rear wheel was smashed and the axle sprung and the body more or less damaged.

The electric car was not damaged and the shock was not great enough to disturb the passengers.

STEAMERS DISREGARD FEDERAL ICE WARNING

Resume Northern Lines, Despite Fact That Berge Are Still a Menace.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Despite reports of dangerous icebergs in the north Atlantic, some transatlantic steamships, disregarding the recommendations of the hydrographic office, have resumed the northern routes in use before the Titanic disaster, according to statements made by hydrographic officials. The liners Oceania and Laconia reported heavy ice in the vicinity of the old northern routes as late as Monday, but steamship companies declared that their passengers were suffering from the heat on the southern routes and that therefore they felt justified in resuming the use of the northern lanes. The hydrographic bureau, after a careful investigation following the Titanic disaster, outlined new lanes, south of the route where the big liner collided with the iceberg, and recommended their use.

COLORADO ONCE HOME OF APELIKE PIGMIES

Evidence Discovered in the Researches of Japanese and British Scientists.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 18.—Evidence that Colorado was inhabited by a race of human pigmies, not easily distinguished from apes, have been discovered in the fossil fields of Florissant by Professor Farnsworth of the British Museum and Professor Yakishi of the Imperial University of Tokyo. The bones are so small that they could not have belonged to a person over three or four feet in height.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET

Boston, July 18.—The "graffe sway," the "camel-hump walk" and the "wide-awake sit" are products of the hobble skirt likely to become accepted terms of Bostonese language, although they have not as yet found their way into the dictionary. The first mentioned, according to a local authority, is only acquired by the willow of form. It requires some study and assimilation, the "neck and head being held as with a view to scraping the lower strata of the clouds and away with a gentle motion like that of a kalsomine brush." The camel hump walk results from the inability of the hobbled damsel to make her feet keep up with her head and shoulders, due to the checking of each foot in mid-course by the hobble. The shoulders sway forward, the body turns from side to side, the spine forms a more or less graceful curve and, for once, the head is held high. The combined effect is well named. But the wide-awake sit, soundly mysterious. The aforementioned authority elucidates it thus: "When the hobbled one sits, her feet look like yours' feet when the woman on the opposite side of the car sits and stares at them. Also, you recall memories of the Mulligan Beller, that was beet to the heels and of magazine silk stockings ads, and your ankle lore is enriched, or impoverished accordingly."

Boston, or at least, an energetic and public spirited group of Boston's women is up in arms over the proposed establishment of the new High School of Commerce in the Back Bay Fens. It has become a question as to whether the city should be the first to open up the supposedly perpetual public parks to the invasion of commercialism. It will be remembered that when Bunker Hill monument was threatened it was a few determined women that turned the tide; likewise it was when the Old South Meetinghouse was actually doomed. Perhaps even now the force of the little group which is fighting the public fight at its own expense may be sufficient to keep the Fens in their intended purpose just as the Boston Common Society has repeatedly justified its existence when danger has threatened its boundaries. Not a small factor in the fight of these people who wish the parks kept intact for the city's beauty and better health, and for their children's children in the greater city of the future, is the support and counsel given them by such experts as Sylvester Baxter, secretary of the Metropolitan Improvement League, the man who more than any other contributed the initial ideas that made the Boston park system a reality, and who has ever taken a keen interest in whatever pertained to the beautification and perpetuation of the parks.

Cats, stray cats, not fewer than one hundred and twenty-seven thousand of them, according to Boston's Animal Rescue League, have been captured by that society in the past seven years. In 1911 alone it received 23,951 of these wandering felines. Most of the alley Toms and Marlas, being either half dead or in such condition as to threaten death or disease to any kind-hearted person who might try to save them, were humanely and painlessly put out of the world. The League claims that 150,000 of the homeless wanderers still are making night hideous in Boston's alleyways and, living on germ-filled garbage barrels, are a walking army of health destroyers. The plan under active progress is to corral the police in the business of protecting the public health, by appointing them purveyors of cats to the League headquarters. The simple expedient of letting the garbage barrels or specially provided barrels with heads slightly tilted serve as traps for the prowlers is proposed. When old Tom jumps down inside the barrel, the cover tips back and he is there in the morning when the officer goes his round. The famous green bag carried by the professional man or student will serve very nicely for conveyance. The League neglects to say whether speech express wagons will be provided each of them to accommodate his daily load. Thus far this year the League has taken in over 14,000 cats, found swarming in the cellars of business houses, dark corners and filthy alleys. The menace to public health embodied in this feline population demands action, and though one may be extremely fond of cats, one must admit it is no more than kindness to remove the starving creatures from their misery in a kindly way. Since one stray female cat may bring from twenty to forty kittens into the world in a year, it is easy to see that it will be some time before the feline race will be depopulated.

Boston's district attorney, Mr. Pelletier, does not agree with Governor Foss that it is absolutely essential that a man should be married to be governor. Indeed, a cynic might say that he is less a governor when married than when single. The district attorney maintains that his Excellency was not elected because he was married, but because the people felt that the principles for which he stood were the right ones. Mr. Pelletier does not say whether he would take a chance if he thought marriage would put him in the governor's chair—perhaps he thinks that to choose from among the 80,000 unmarried young women in Massachusetts would be more difficult than to keep going as just a more district attorney.

Entries will close on Aug. 3, with Dr. A. H. Pritch, 67 Milk street, Boston, who will be the manager of the exhibition. The committee is made up of Messrs. Prescott Bigelow, H. L. Burrage, Hugh Lang-croft, H. L. Pierce, E. D. Emerson, F. O. Emerson and E. V. Mitchell.
In addition to the regular cash prizes in the many classes there will be distributed $750 in five prizes to stable managers winning the largest number of ribbons in the harness or saddle classes. Five cash prizes are offered in most of the classes. For the harness horses there are twenty-four numbers and six cups will be the chief trophy in as many events, these being the hackney class, the gig class, the ladies' runabout, the combination, the ladies' phaeton and the ladies' phaeton pairs classes.
There will be two classes for tandems and three for four-in-hands. In the park four-in-hand class a cup valued at $150 is offered by Judge William H. Moore. Two classes are made up for roadsters, one for trotters and three for hackneys in hand. Saddle and harness ponies have two classes each, with eleven divisions for the hunters. A $100 cup is offered for pairs of hunters and Governor Foss offers a cup for hunt teams. There are three Corinthian classes and for the high jump J. C. Thompson of New York offers a $100 cup. Nine champion ships have been arranged and four specials, the latter being a four-in-hand race, two trotting events and a tandem race.

TO REORGANIZE THE ARMY

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Plans for reorganizing and strengthening the military forces of the United States are being threshed out by Sec. Stimson's Army Council, now in session here.

Two distinct and variant views are being considered. One plan would create a reserve composed entirely of men who have served at least one enlistment in the regular Army, and for a small annual compensation would report at occasional musters and drills and hold themselves in readiness for a call to the colors. The other looks to the increase of the regular Army to its full war strength, practically abandoning the reserve theory.

The council is also discussing a proposition to abandon the big isolated army posts and to locate the troops in or near great cities. Reasons of greater economy are urged in favor of this proposition, which involves the permanent assignment of every regiment to some particular city, thus making it easy to reach and recall to the colors the soldiers whose enlistments have expired and who take up their homes in the vicinity of the regiment. Admitting the numerical insufficiency of the field artillery, one of the most vital elements in the Army, the council is considering the idea of strengthening that arm in time of war by filling up skeleton organizations.

Canon of Westminster Says America Should Stamp Out Rubber Atrocities.

LONDON, July 17.—Rev. Herbert Hensley Henson, canon of Westminster Abbey, concludes a letter to the newspaper on the atrocities committed in Peru in connection with the rubber industry: "If the Monroe Doctrine carries to the American mind any moral connotation, then the great republic which fought the greatest civil war of modern times in suppressing slavery, cannot stand idle while the dependent republic of Peru falls in the alphabet of humane government."

TWO BOYS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

HAMPSHIRE, N. H., July 17.—Amos Johnson aged 15, and Stanley Chase, aged 12, would have drowned, it is believed, in Angiers Pond, at dawn today, except for their timely rescue by Paul McVey of Dorchester, Mass., Thomas Perry and Ralph Brown.

Johnson and Chase were bathing in the pond and were "trolling" when suddenly they found themselves beyond their depth. Unable to swim, they cried for help. Mrs. Kelsor, who lives in a cottage near by, heard their calls and ran for assistance. She had to go some distance before she found anybody.

McVey went in immediately on learning of the accident and was followed by Perry and Brown. McVey saved Stanley, while Perry and Brown rescued Chase.

Dr. Allen was summoned. He was assisted in his efforts to resuscitate the boys by Samuel Bumpus, John Church and Rev. Howard Dore of the Newburyport Y. M. C. A. Both boys are still in a serious condition as a result of their experience.

MORE HONORS FOR TWO NEWSPAPER MEN

Sherman Allen, Assistant Secretary of Treasury, and Luther Conant, Commissioner of Corporations.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Taft today sent to the Senate the nominations of Sherman P. Allen of Vermont to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Luther Conant, Jr., of New York, to be Commissioner of Corporations. The latter succeeds Herbert Knox Smith, resigned, to John C. Thompson's new party.

Mr. Allen is a newspaper man. When Mr. Durling, also of Burlington, was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy he brought Mr. Allen with him as his private secretary. Mr. Allen left the Navy Department to enter the bureau of the New York Herald in this city and has been continuously in the service of the Herald until he resigned to become the President's assistant secretary.

For the last five years Mr. Conant has been a special examiner of the Bureau of Corporations. He took an active part in the Standard Oil investigation. Prior to entering the Government service he was financial editor of the New York Journal of Commerce. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is about thirty-eight years old.

AUSTRALIA FEARS BEEF TRUST HERE

Government is Urged to Take Steps to Prevent American Monopoly.

LONDON, July 17.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Melbourne says that Australian meat exporters are alarmed at the news that the Swifts are setting up big meat packing work at Brisbane, and ask the Government to interfere to protect trade against American trust methods.

EAGLES' FIELD DAY, NEW BEDFORD JULY 25.

From the response to invitations extended to Eagles throughout New England to participate in the fifth annual field day of the New England Eagles that is to be held in this city July 25, there is every indication that the success of this year's event will be unprecedented. Thus far entries in Providence, Bristol, Warren and Woonsocket, R. I., North Adams, Chicopee Falls, Lawrence, Brockton, Fall River, Taunton, Newburyport, Watertown, Chelsea, Keene, N. H., and Barre, Vt., have signified their intention of attending. The closest competition will come all the way to New Bedford in automobiles and the Brockton Aeris will bring with them the famous Milo-Burke band.

Ex-Mayor and ex-Senator William J. Bullock is to be chief marshal of the parade in which it is expected that at least 10,000 men will be in the line of march. Special prizes are offered; $50 for the aeris making the best appearance, $50 for the aeris having the greatest number in line, and $25 for the aeris coming from the greatest distance.

The sub-committee on sports is arranging for an elaborate program of events which includes a 100 yards dash for Eagles only, and an open for all event in the same distance. There will also be a number of other events in which both Eagles and non-members of the organization may compete. Handsome prizes are to be awarded to the winners in each event.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN AGREEMENT

LONDON, July 17.—A despatch from St. Petersburg, commenting on Prince Katsura's visit, says that Russia's flat refusal to listen to suggestions made at the Baltimore interview tending to embroil her with Japan, encourages the belief that Russia is firmly resolved to work harmoniously with Japan. It is asserted in well-informed quarters, continues the correspondent, that negotiations for the conclusion of a virtual alliance have practically been completed and that Prince Katsura, is coming to St. Petersburg to put the final touch on the labors of the Japanese ambassador, Baron Motono. According to the same authority the convention will be

BIG LAKE OF SODA

Said to Be Bigger Than Scotland—Somewhere in East Africa

The European powers have pretty well divided Africa between them, and it looks quite civilized on an up-to-date map, but apparently there are still big tracts which are terra incognita, judging from the announcement that a company is being formed to exploit a great lake of soda discovered last year in the East Africa protectorate, says the London Daily News.

If, as is said, it covers an area of some 10,000 square miles, it is by far the biggest lake in Africa, exceeding by 14,000 square miles the area of the Victoria Nyman, and being capable of accommodating the whole of Scotland within it as an island, with at least 6,000 square miles of soda to spare. The manufacture of soda is one of the most important of chemical industries, and those engaged in it will watch with interest the opening up of this immense source of supply.

Time was when ocean plants supplied the raw material of soda, and it was the French revolution which effected the first great revolution in the making of that necessary article of every day use.

The national convention, seeing France isolated from the rest of the world, entrained patriotic scientists to save the country from a threatened soda famine and as a result Leblanc invented his process for the manufacture of soda from coal, lime, salt and sulphuric acid.

LONG HIKES FOR CONVERTS

Missouri Preacher Has Walked 18,000 Miles in Last Six Years

The Rev. G. M. Walker, who has been preaching at several country churches in Howard county since 1905, doubtless holds the walking record among Missouri's rural clergy. Mr. Walker estimates that he has traveled more than eighteen thousand miles on foot and horseback, principally on foot in the six and a half years he has been preaching in this county.

In one of the most severe blizzards Mr. Walker walked fourteen miles from a distant point in Howard county to Fayette in order to lead a prayer meeting.

Mr. Walker is a hardy Englishman of the type which takes snow baths in the dead of winter. In truth, his strenuous

GOLD COIN BEING WORN BELOW VALUE

WASHINGTON, July 17.—There are probably millions of dollars in gold coin circulating in the United States which are not worth their face value. This fact has been called to the attention of Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States, but the Government has no desire or intention to recall the money, in order that only gold of standard value may be in circulation.

Should this gold be presented to the treasury, or subtreasuries, its owners would be the losers, because of the enormous wear caused by abrasion in circulation.

While the Government does not require that gold coin shall be of standard weight to be redeemed at their face value, it has established what is known as a "limit of tolerance," which permits a loss in weight of one-half of one percent. Below that limit the treasury makes a reduction at the rate of one cent per grain.

Lightweight gold, it is said, exists principally on the Pacific coast, where the greater bulk of the yellow metal is in circulation. The financial interests of the west, the treasury has been advised, know of two kinds of gold—treasury gold and bank gold. The former is full weight, while the latter is below the "limit of tolerance."

The worn gold never reaches the treasury, or the subtreasuries. According to reports here, it is passed from bank to bank and individual, like a plugged coin, and in that way maintains its parity of value.

Curiously enough, silver coin is always worth its face value, however much abused by the ravages of time.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Portsmouth People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Portsmouth people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Portsmouth testimony proves it reliable.

Arion A. Ballou, machinist, 278 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I first used them. For some time my kidneys were out of order and caused my back to become very lame and painful. I finally got so bad that I could not attend to my work, as my sudden movement sent sharp whinges through my body. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Phillips's Drug Store, came to my relief and I have had practically no trouble from my kidneys since using them. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of back-ache, I advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills and know of several persons who have acted on my suggestion and have been benefited."

MORE TROUBLE ON THE COLLIER VULCAN

Foremen Allege That They Were Served Tainted Food and Were Forced To Drink Hot Water.

The firemen on the collier Vulcan, which recently started a lot of trouble aboard that vessel before she left this port for Boston, which led to the arrest of seven of the crew, are again in the limelight at Hampton Roads. The story of alleged abuses aboard ship has been reported to the Marine Firemen's Union and an attorney.

The complaint will be sent to Washington for investigation.

The firemen alleged that they were served tainted food and forced to drink hot water when unable to buy water. They charged that when they complained of these conditions, eight of their number were thrown into the brig which was only large enough to accommodate two, and that on account of the terrible heat of yesterday, in this place, the prisoners fainted and came near dying.

Agent Baska of the Union said today that the firemen were given water in the fire room so warm that they could not drink it, and that the ice which should have been used to cool the drinking water was used for icing bottles of beer. Those bottles, he asserted, were sold to the firemen and others for 15 cents per bottle, or five cents more than it could be bought for on shore. He told the firemen he would report the matter to the navy department with a petition signed by the men.

Getting Strong Again

The tug-of-war men who issue challenges every week or two under the name of the "Unknown" have once again got strong and want to have a drag with the men on the U. S. S. Washington.

If the Portsmouth strong men are really out for a pull and have any money to go with the exhibition there is not the least doubt but they can be accommodated by meeting the athletic manager of the cruiser.
